Lady Lawyers Basketball League "Rebounder"

Volume I., Edition I

November 15, 2006

Lady Lawyers Fantasy Camp with Georgetown Women's Basketball

Want to brush up on your skills before the 2nd Annual Tourney? Want to pretend to be a DI baller (again, or for the first time)? Join the Gtown women's coaches for a fun morning of basketball on January 28. And if you bring a first-timer from your law firm/law school/legal organization, they can play for free! More details coming soon!

Wanted: A Few Good Ladies to Get Involved

We want a few good ladies to get more involved in our all-volunteer-run Lady Lawyers League. Are you interested in being on our national board? A member of the DC organizing committee? Tell us!

The Wild Wild West

The west coast got their first taste of Lady Lawyers League madness with the kickoff tournament held in San Francisco on October 16. Nearly forty women battled on the courts, representing various law firms, including DLA Piper, Orrick, Heller Ehrman, O'Melveny & Myers, as well as various law schools in California and beyond. Following in DC's footsteps, a good time was had by all! Now we're working on getting a league going in SF. And next up... Los Angeles!

Old School Ballers vs. Team Georgetown

Congrats to the defending champion Old School Ballers and Team Georgetown for making it to the title game for a much anticipated rematch! And congrats to all fall league ladies on a terrific season! We look forward to seeing you all back out on the courts for our upcoming Second Annual Tournament and Spring League 2007. Special thanks to all the gals who volunteer their time to make this league happen -- particularly Jen Schwab for the countless hours spent behind the scenes to make everything appear effortless. Thanks to our DC Board Members - Tammar Berger, Tamica Daniel, Melissa Dulski, Whitney Pellegrino and Jennifer Zachary, and a giant thanks to the Gtown Women's Basketball Club -- Meghan Fennelly, Leah McCoy, Keri McWilliams, Michen Tah, Erika Woods and the rest for your enthusiasm and willingness to help! Thanks also to our beloved fall league sponsors Akin Gump and Sidley Austin, and Cathy Perry-Jones, Mark Sinclair, Jason Wallenhorst and everyone at the GULC Sports & Fitness Center!

More Than Just a League... We're Almost a Nonprofit!

As many of you know, we are working on turning the Lady Lawyers League into a nonprofit organization. Thanks to our pro bono counsel, DLA Piper, we're starting the process of incorporation. GITG will have three main goals:

- ♦ Provide opportunities for professional women to be physically active
- ♦ Encourage meaningful networking and mentoring opportunities.
- ♦ Utilize/donate net proceeds to further the goals of charitable organizations that help young girls or women in underserved populations.

Each year, we will pick one organization to be the recipient of funds and league-wide volunteer efforts. The first choice will be announced at the tournament, and if you would like to nominate an organization, we would love to hear your suggestions.

Mark Your Calendars and Save These Dates!

You're all invited to join in the fun of the tournament that started it all... Us "women-in-the-law" and friends will hit the courts again this February for the Second Annual Get in the Game Lady Lawyers Hoops Tournament!
